

Advanced Support

support system

Bonnell spring system - traditional spring system, which is heat tempered for additional strength, durability and resilience, ensuring that the springs will continually return to their original height after repeated compressions.

Round helical wires connect each individual spring along a line either head to toe or side to side to reduce roll-together and motion transference.

The Bonnell spring system offers progressive resilience, the more weight applied, the more resistance to the body as the degree of the compression increases.

comfort layers

Premium foam - layers of premium foam offer lasting comfort.

Fine felt pad- offers needed firmness and support.

Coconut Fibre - allows air and moisture to flow right through, giving a long time of comfortable, dry and hygienic sleep. Its extremely durable pads help prevent spring wear.
